L'Imparfait

Quel est l'imparfait?

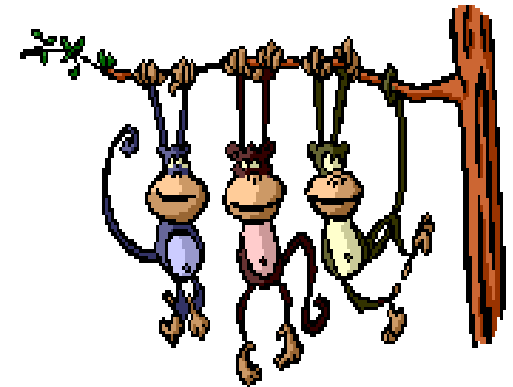

Like the passé composé, L'imparfait is a verb form that is also used to describe things that happened in the past, but describes how people or things were or used to be, conditions as they were or used to be and actions that took place repeatedly in the past.

Note the following examples:

Je portais un jean.

Marc choisissait une veste.

Nous attendions nos amis.

Comment formons-nous l'imparfait?

The imparfait consists of one word, unlike the passé composé's two word formation. For each verb (except être), the imperfect is formed by dropping the -ons from the nous form conjugation, and then adding the following endings.

Nous form of verb, drop the -ons + appropriate endings.

Formez l'imparfait avec ces fins.

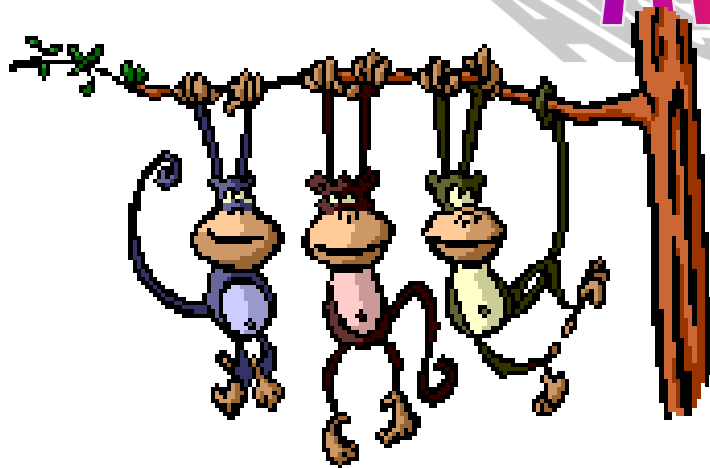

The chart below indicates the proper endings to add for each subject pronoun (after finding the nous form's stem).

Je	-ais	Nous	-ions
Tu	-ais	Vous	-iez
Il	-ait	Elles	-aient

Example: Vous aviez faim.

Bonne chance avec l'imparfait!
