Credit card settlement service in foreign currencies,
"DCC" (Dynamic Currency Conversion), now available at Flags!
- First among shopping centers in Tokyo! -

The fashion building "Flags," operated by an Odakyu Group company, has begun the "DCC" (Dynamic Currency Conversion Service) from June 9th (Mon), 2014.

DCC is a service that allows foreign customers have convert the cost of a transaction into their local currency at a point of sale* by enabling them to select their home currency (10 currencies including the US dollar, Korean Won, Australian dollar, Taiwan dollar, Euro, etc.) when they use credit cards issued in their countries (Visa, MasterCard®). It alleviates concerns about exchange rate fluctuations for the customers, such as not being able to tell the exact purchase amount until they receive a statement.

Flags has introduced DCC in addition to the existing method of payment in Japanese yen, in order to create environment in which foreign customers can shop with ease. Among all the shopping centers in Tokyo, Flags is the first to introduce this service in all of its stores.

[DCC service outline]
